expected to take part in this matter-progress and success in every undertaking depends largely upon promptness and unity of action. If you can give $100 do so; if you don't feel able to give this amount, give as much as you can. Give something, whether the amount be large or small.

It is needless to go into the distinct needs or advantages of a public play ground in Lexington. Every one is conversant therewith, and we feel sure the money will be contributed liberally and promptly, that this beneficial improvement may be started and completed within the next few months.

Read the list below. If your name is not there call on or telephone E. N. Hopkins, J. R. Moorehead or Walter B. Waddell, the trustees having the project in hand, and let them know the amount you are willing to subscribe.
